MASONS HONOR NATION'S FATHER

Spirit of Washington Presides Over Banquet in Alexandria.

VICE PRESIDENT SPEAKS

Says Men of All Political Beliefs Can Meet on Common Ground of Free Masonry.

By STAFF CORRESPONDENT.

Alexandria, Va., Feb. 23.—The spirit of George Washington presided over the banquet of Alexandria-Washington Lodge, No. 22, F. A. A. M., at Masonic Temple, tonight. The Father of his Country was first master of this lodge. The elite of Alexandria, men and women, gathered around the festive board to do him honor. Women of the local branch of the Eastern Star, attired in colonial dress, served the banquet in good Old Dominion style.

Vice President Marshall, the guest of honor, and principal speaker, who is a Mason of high degree, made a speech, in which he pointed out the unbroken continuity of the lodge, from the first Master of this lodge, George Washington, to the present.

The Vice President let it be known that the blood of the Old Dominion flowed in the veins of a grandfather of his, who went West many years ago. The patriotic sentiment was evident in almost every word of his speech.

New View of Human History.

"Today's occurrences have given me a new view of human history," he said. "Looking on the ashes of the Father of his Country today has awakened in me an entirely new interest and I must say, a rather new point of view. 'You will understand how glad I am to be with you good people of Alexandria when I tell you that a grandfather of mine carried the blood of this dear Old Dominion out of here in his veins many, many years ago.'"

Again did the Vice President take a fling at his job, as if he were more than a little tired of it all.

"Nobody ought to object to the Vice President growing," he continued. "If he can't do that, what on earth can he do? There must be something to go with the office. Most of us are like the colored soprano in the choir. He had a dream in which he dreamed he had sung 400 songs and woke up saying to himself that he wasn't going to be 'bossed by nobody any more.'"

Mr. Marshall probably had some high official in mind when he said: "This new idea in the republic that the man is equal to anything, that he needs no advice, that there is nothing higher or better than himself, I protest against. All over America you are hearing of men standing up and saying 'I did this and I did that; I cleaned up this, or I cleaned up that.'"

Tribute to Masonry.

The Vice President followed this with a tribute to Masonry.

"The nation, through George Washington, owes a debt of gratitude to Free Masonry," he said. "One hundred and thirty years ago Democracy was almost unknown in the world. Washington was of the blood of the Old Dominion. Thank God, there is one place where a Democrat and a Bull Moose now can meet on common ground and shake hands. There's no politics in Free Masonry."

Another Moses might come along at any time with another law such as that promulgated on Mount Sinai, but without the American people behind it it would not amount to a thing.

Mr. Marshall gave a rousing and applauded his speech enthusiastically.

Worshipful Master Charles Britton Swan presided and made a short speech.

SOTHERN-MARLOWE

REPORTS ARE DENIED

Actor and Manager Both Say Story of Marital Disagreement Is Untrue.

Absolute denial of reports that Julia Marlowe (Mrs. Sothern), and her husband, E. H. Sothern, have quarreled and that serious marital differences have resulted, has been made to L. Stoddard Taylor, manager of the Belasco Theater, in a letter from the Sothern-Marlowe Company, now in the West. These reports, prompted by Mrs. Marlowe's leaving the company at Los Angeles, Mr. Stoddard Taylor characterizes as "malicious lies," and declares that there is "no truth in them."

Mr. Sothern is indignant at the reports and has issued a statement which says in part:

"The statement concerning a disagreement between Mrs. Sothern (Julia Marlowe) and myself is an especially cold-blooded and cruel lie, calculated to cause extreme pain to a woman already sadly afflicted. It is disproved by anybody desiring to ascertain the truth. There was no immediate danger in her transfer to New York. She did not hire a special train, but went in our private car, in which we always travel. Everybody in the theater in Los Angeles knew of her illness and of her heroic determination to do her duty as she saw it. For two years she has been overworked and has proceeded for my sake, and in spite of the advice of her physician, Nature at length rebelled and this wicked falsehood is the reward of so much courage."

"Of minor importance is the statement concerning sums paid Mrs. Sothern and myself by Mr. Shubert, who also could, and would, readily have informed you that he paid us nothing. We are absolutely independent. Mr. Shubert books our tours in his theaters. We have no guarantee, no certainty of any kind, and desire none. The whole dispatch is a tissue of falsehood."

DIES ON EVE OF WEDDING.

Miss Mary Lou Cobb Succumbs Suddenly to Heart Disease.

Death of the bride-elect yesterday tragically ended the plans for the wedding of Miss Mary Lou Cobb, of Birmingham, and Lieut. Ralph C. Holliday, U. S. A., who were to be married in Birmingham today. Miss Cobb, popular in Washington on her several visits to friends here, died from heart disease at her home, where her friends were gathered already.

Lieut. Holliday is attached to the Twenty-third Infantry, and has been on duty on Texas City. When Secretary of War, Garrison learned of the death of Miss Cobb he extended sympathy to the young officer and the family of Miss Cobb. Several Washington friends of the couple, who were to be the wedding guests, will attend the funeral services, which are to be held in Birmingham.

ALL LATEST DANCES AT GEORGETOWN PROM

Terpsichorean Novelties Executed in Many Different Ways by Law Students.

The million-dollar shawl, tango, nights of gladness, and hesitation waltz, executed according to personal inclination, held undisputed sway at the Frolicsman prom at the Georgetown University Law School at the New Willard last night.
